

EVENING GOWN FROM JENNY FOR A YOUNG MATRON.

This gown is of silver brocade trimmed with metal net and having a girdle of rose velvet ribbon. The skirt is cut on very bouffant lines and ripples gracefully, while a short train of brocade is veiled with metal net. The bodice is studded with brilliants and outlined with aluminum gray chiffon.

From J. M. GIDDING & CO.

Restaurant hat for the debutante.
From Franklin Simon & Co.

GORGEOUS DANCE FROCK FOR A DEBUTANTE.

Very modish indeed is this evening frock of paon blue soiree silk showing front and back panels embroidered with white chenille and pearls. The gown is much trimmed with metal net, and the corsage ornament of rhinestone and jet studded velvet and chiffon with black aigrettes is decidedly novel.

From JAMES McCREERY & CO.

EVENING GOWN FOR THE OPERA.

A lovely creation of silver embossed pink taffeta with a bodice of silver lace and rhinestone ornaments. The brocade is draped across the right shoulder in graceful fashion and falls in an unbroken line, forming a train at the left.

From R. H. MACY & CO.

A dashing sombrero.

From James A. Hearn & Son.

(Photographed specially for The Sun by Joel Feder.)

Afternoon hat in royal purple.

From Lord & Taylor.